Policy to Identify the Best Outgoing Student

To reward and motivate meritorious students who have exhibited all-around excellence, the Federal Institute of Science and Technology (FISAT) presents the 'Best Outgoing Student' award to a student from every department from the graduating batch every year.

- The selection of the best outgoing student is made by giving scores to the students for the parameters included in the criteria. The parameters used to award scores include performance in academic, co-curricular, and extracurricular activities, participation in NSS, student leadership roles, and sports as decided by the department.
- Faculty members nominate students' names and indicate the weights given to different criteria for each student.
- The process of awarding marks is done transparently and objectively.
- The student with the maximum mark obtained shall be announced as the best outgoing student.
