Policy on Laboratory Management

The Federal Institute of Science and Technology has adequate measures in place to manage the laboratories.

- All equipment/machinery/instruments used are identified with a unique number and are well maintained.
- A well-defined procedure is followed for Breakdown, preventive maintenance, and equipment calibration.
- A list of inspection, measuring, and test equipment for calibration is identified in each department, and calibration frequency is also identified for each equipment.
- Calibration is done as per the schedule, either internally or externally.
- The maintenance register, Calibration register, Stock register, and Consumable register are properly maintained at every lab.
- Safety manuals are kept at each lab, and safety procedures are displayed in the venue.
- Lab manuals for the working of the equipment are prepared and circulated among the students.
- Laboratories are utilized for regular laboratory work, projects, and research activities.
